Article 6, clause 3, sub-clause d of the Directives on the Determination of Equivalence of Foreign Language Examinations issued by the Student Selection and Placement Center (OSYM) stipulates that international foreign language proficiency examinations administered in Turkey must be administered in buildings owned by state universities in order for the examination to be deemed equivalent and maintain its equivalence.

For such scores to be deemed acceptable, students must present their original exam results and these results must still be valid at the time of their submission to the University. For a test result to be valid, the validity period of the respective exam should not have expired since the administration of the exam. The School of Languages reserves the right to investigate or reject exam results it deems suspicious, and to require such students to take an OzU English Proficiency Examination when deems necessary.
